STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

WORKING PEOPLE NEED UNIONS
We formed our union because we could not depend on employers to provide us with dignity, a measure of security and a rising standard of living. And, over the years, we have made impressive gains. But our objectives remain far from fulfilled, and with even our past gains under attack, WE NEED UNIONS TODAY AS MUCH AS WE EVER DID.

DEMOCRATIC UNIONISM
Unions are voluntary organizations. We can only be effective if the membership knows the Union truly belongs to them. This means a union that reflects the goals of its membership, allows the members full participation, and encourages workers to develop their own skills and understanding.

Internal democracy also means we view each other as EQUALS. Racial discrimination or sexual harassment violate our principles, undermine our solidarity and erode our strength. We not only oppose such responses but also will actively work to overcome them.

UNIONS AND A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY
In our society, private corporations control the workplace and set the framework for all employees. By way of this economic power, they influence the laws, policies, and ideas of society. Unions are central to our society being democratic because:

- Unions bring a measure of democracy to the place of work, which is so central to peoples' lives.
- Unions act as partial counterweight to corporate power and the corporate agenda in society generally.
SOCIAL UNIONISM

Our collective bargaining strength is based on our internal organization and mobilization, but it is also influenced by the more general climate around us: laws, policies, the economy, and social attitudes. Furthermore, our lives extend beyond collective bargaining and the workplace and we must concern ourselves with issues like housing, taxation, education, medical services, the environment, and the international economy. Social unionism means unionism that is rooted in the workplace but understands the importance of participating in, and influencing the general direction of society.

BUILDING TOMORROW

Unions were born out of struggles to change the status quo. Our successes extended progress beyond unions themselves, and our struggles became part of a SOCIAL MOVEMENT for a more humane society here and for peace and justice internationally. These struggles were a first step towards developing the confidence that change is possible and that our vision is NOT JUST A DREAM.

We are proud of the leadership role we play; aware of the difficulties continued progressive change will face, and committed to building the social solidarity that can take on this change.

ORGANIZING

Organizing is a priority for the Union. It is an act of solidarity, a way to give back and build strength in the Union and within the working class. Organizing is a critical first step in mobilizing workers. Through organizing, individual workers go beyond the limits of individualism and assert their right to change the terms and conditions of their employment. In collective action they join a movement for social and economic justice.
